

Singapore - GIP Application Procedures and Fees

The Global Investor Program (GIP) is a Permanent Residency scheme specially designed for wealthy investors who wish to relocate to Singapore. Under GIP, foreign nationals can acquire a Permanent Residency (PR) status by investing a minimum of SGD2.5 million in Singapore-registered companies or GIP funds that in-turn invest in Singapore companies.

Our services fees for handling the application Singapore residence through GIP are SGD25,000 (excluding out-of-pocket expenses). If you would like to apply SPR/LTVP for your family members, an additional service fee of SGD1,800 (excluding out-of-pocket expenses) for each member of your family will be charged. Fees paid are non-refundable if the application is rejected and it is subject to the approval from the relevant government authority.

The procedure to gain permanent residence under the global investor program (GIP) takes a considerable length of time. The applicant must submit a personal profile via an e-application form (with hard copies also compiled and sent), and is then required to attend an interview, usually within two to four months of submission of the application. If all the criteria are met, an approval in principle is issued and is valid for a six-month period, during which the application must make the requisite investment under the chosen investment option and submit documentary proof of such.

After two years of permanent residence in Singapore, it is possible to apply for citizenship; however, Singapore is a strictly single-citizenship country and each applicant must relinquish all existing citizenship before naturalisation is possible. Also, all male Singapore citizens and permanent resident are obliged to participate in the countries compulsory two-year national service.
